

Washington Communities of Practice

FALL 2022

Start Early Washington's communities of practice focus on developing collaborative learning environments for home visiting professionals. They offer a co-creative and participatory space for shared learning where building knowledge is a shared process that draws upon all participants' combined experiences and expertise. Through discussion, shared experiences, relationship building and reflection, participants can inform their practice, tend to their own goals and help shape the sessions.

Each community of practice is limited to 15 participants to encourage trust, meaningful interaction and space for rich dialog that results in a productive, positive group experience. Consistent attendance (at least five of the six 90-minute sessions) is required of those who register.

Supporting Native Families

Home Visitors	Supervisors
Details: This community of practice is for home visitors wanting to explore shared experiences, challenges and questions about what it's like to provide home visiting for Native families. Dates: Virtual meetings consist of six 90-minute sessions on Tuesdays: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Nov. 1 through Dec. 6.• 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. PST. Registration closes when we reach 15 participants. Click here to register	Details: This community of practice is for home visiting supervisors supporting tribal communities and Native families. Dates: Virtual meetings consist of six 90-minute sessions on Wednesdays: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Nov. 2 through Dec. 7.• 10 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. PST Registration closes when we reach 15 participants. Click here to register

For more information: visit Washington Communities of Practice.
Or email ALEX PATRICELLI at apatricelli@startearly.org.